1 THE 53rd A.D. SHROFF MEMORIAL ELOCUTION COMPETITION (2017-18)

The 53rd A.D. Shroff Memorial Elocution Competition (2017-18) was jointly organised by the Departments of English and Business Economics on Saturday, 23rd September, 2017. This elocution is being held under the aegis of Forum of Free Enterprise since 1965 in the memory of the late AD Shroff with the objective of encouraging college students to think and speak on economic and other related subjects enabling them to demonstrate their oratory skills. The topics for this year were:

- Digitisation – the way forward.
- Importance of infrastructure in economic development.
- Ethics in business and industry.
- Role of youth in building a New India.

We are happy to mention that we received an overwhelming response – this year 16 students participated to voice their views. Each participant was allowed to speak for five minutes. The panel of judges comprised of:

- a. Mrs R Padmanabhan – HOD, Department of Business Economics
- b. Mrs Vandana Joshi, , retired HOD of Dept. of English

Miss. Ansari Sana Anees, a student of TYBA, who spoke on Importance of infrastructure in economic development, won the first prize and a certificate. Miss. Ansari Sana Anees will represent our College in the Inter Collegiate competition to be held in January, 2018.

Mr. Raz Rehman Ali, FYBMM got the second prize and certificate for his views on the topic Role of youth in building a New India. Mr Mohsin Hussain Khan, Tybcom won the third prize and certificate for his views on the topic Importance of infrastructure in economic development.

Miss Anam Sayad and Miss Ibtisam Shaikh were placed fourth and fifth respectively.

2. Guest lecture on ‘Socio Economic Perspectives on Slums of Dharavi’ by Mr. Mohsin Khan.

A Guest lecture was organised on ‘Socio Economic Perspectives on Slums of Dharavi’ by Mr. Mohsin Khan on 15th March 2018. He is a resident of Dharavi as well as a Tourist guide. He was invited by the Department of Business Economics to give insights on Socio Economic Perspectives on Slums of Dharavi. 62 students participated in the said lecture.
